Welcome to the Camrose region, a captivating destination where rich history meets modern vibrancy. Nestled an hour southeast of Edmonton in the heart of Central Alberta, Camrose and its eighteen surrounding communities offer something for everyone, making it the perfect place to escape hustle and bustle.

The region's story is rooted in the land itself, once traversed by Indigenous peoples and shaped by the expansion of the railway. Whether you're drawn by the tales of the past, boutique shopping, or outdoor adventure in the region's UNESCO Biosphere Reserve, there's no shortage of things to see, do, and experience. Hike, bike, fish, and paddle your way through the natural landscapes of our aspen parkland. Or embrace the arts with shows, courses, and inspiration at the arts & cultural hubs. For golf enthusiasts, the region has become sought-after with seven fantastic courses to explore, all within less than an hour drive of Camrose.

If great food is the way to your heart, the region's restaurants serve everything from sushi and steak to artisan baking and creative latte art. And if you're looking to experience something truly local, be sure to tour farm-to-table restaurants! We invite you to explore hidden gems, attend unique events & festivals, traverse river valley trails, savour sunsets, and treat yourself. Create memories in the Camrose region.

MUSEUMS & HISTORIC SITES

Camrose is located in a travelling route and home to the Maskwacis Nêhiyawak, Niitsitapi, Nakoda, and Tsuut'ina Nations, the Métis, and other Indigenous peoples. Their spiritual and practical relationships to the land create a rich heritage for our learning and our life as a community.

Settlers began arriving in Camrose in the early 1900s. The Camrose railway depot was constructed in 1911 following the completion of the railway connecting Camrose to Vegreville in April of 1910.

Freight service began in November of 1910 through Camrose and was followed by passenger services beginning in 1912. The freight line primarily transported agricultural products like grain and cattle as well as coal.

Many early homesteaders were from Sweden and Norway and skiing became a popular past-time that continues today. Camrose was first known as Stoney Creek (named after the creek flowing through the city) and incorporated as Sparling in 1905. Due to similar town names elsewhere in Manitoba and confusion with mail deliveries, the town was incorporated as Camrose in 1906. The Camrose community formed around the bustling railway hub and the agriculture industry thrived due to the fertile soil and plentiful precipitation.

although the bridge has been gone for over 100 years, the quiet rural community has access to the valley where people enjoy hiking, paddling, and snowmobiling in the winter. The Verdun School and St. Thomas Church(built in 1883) near Duhamel are beautiful historical places worth visiting.

A lesser-known historic hotspot is in Duhamel, 20 minutes southeast of Camrose. In 1910, the Grand Trunk Pacific Bridge was one of the largest wooden rail bridges ever constructed. This community was originally established by the Hudson Bay Company as a trading post, operated by Metis people that arrived from Manitoba around 1880. Today,
